D. Boral Capital Acted as Financial and Capital Markets Advisor to SPACSphere Acquisition Corp. (Nasdaq: SSAC) in Connection with its Business Combination Announcement with Mobilewalla

Transaction Information

On June 1, 2026, Mobilewalla, a leading provider of data and vertical agentic AI solutions, and SPACSphere Acquisition Corp. (NASDAQ: SSAC), a publicly traded special purpose acquisition company, announced they have entered into a definitive business combination agreement through which Mobilewalla will become a publicly listed company.

Mobilewalla was founded in 2012 by Dr. Anindya Datta. Since its founding, Mobilewalla has been focused on building a proprietary, exabyte-scale, research grade consumer data platform which provides high quality, privacy compliant data that is optimized to power vertical agentic AI solutions across multiple consumer facing industries.

“I am excited to partner with Bala and his team to help accelerate Mobilewalla’s proven vertical AI solutions across our current consumer facing markets, with an opportunity to accelerate our entrance into new markets, all of which we anticipate will benefit greatly from our approach,” said Dr. Anindya Datta, CEO of Mobilewalla. “We believe vertical agentic AI is the next frontier in the evolution of AI and solves industry challenges that horizontal AI cannot support.”

The company currently offers three vertical-specific products as part of their platform that drives actionable results across telecom, financial services and the marketing and advertising sectors. Mobilewalla’s current platform has been utilized globally by clients within its core verticals, and the company sees an opportunity to target a TAM of over $115 billion with a repeatable playbook into adjacent vertical markets.

D. Boral Capital LLC (“D. Boral”) is acting as Financial and Capital Markets advisors to SSAC.
